KILLED AT CORYDON.

Wealthy Henderson County Land Owner Shot Dead.

His Slayer Also Perhaps Fatally Wounded During the Shoot-ing Bee.

Henderson, Ky., March 23.—A fatal shooting occurred at Corydon, this county, to-day, in which Green W. Pritchett was killed and John Belew, a farmer, fatally wounded. Bad blood existed between the two men over some business affairs, and when they met on the streets to-day Pritchett shot Belew and Belew shot Pritchett. With a bullet through his heart, Pritchett fired a third shot at Belew, but missed. Pritchett then fell and expired. Pritchett was one of the wealthiest men of this section. He was an extensive land owner and tobacconist. The coroner's verdict exonerated Belew.

He was about 80 years old, a man of considerable means, and was a highly respected citizen.

For Liberty and Succeeded in Getting Away.

Ed Wade, col., who was arrested near Longview Friday, on a charge of having attempted a criminal assault upon a colored woman of that neighborhood, made his escape after his arrival here. Wade was taken to the jail by constable Allen who left the the prisoner in charge of his (Allen's) brother in order that he could go to the Court House after the jailer. Wade complained of being hot and taking of his overcoat handed it to the guard. The prisoner then suddenly dashed around corner and made good his escape. He ran to the river and although he had a considerable start, the local officers who accompanied the Allen's searched for him until after dark. They traced him by his tracks for about three miles down the river but failed to overtake him.

of Christian County, as a candidate for Railroads Commissioner, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election Nov. 1902.

The Southern and Northern branches of the Methodist church are taking steps towards the federation of their mission work.

Acting President Schalk-Burger,
of the Transvaal Republic, and Lord Kitchener have had a meeting and it is believed have opened negotiations looking to peace.

John Kelly, of Baltimore, was suddenly stricken dumb a few days ago while uttering bitter and blasphemous curses in the presence of his wife.

Gen. Miles' independence may cause him to be retired by the President. He is past 62 years of age and can be retired at the discretion of the President who is known to have no kindly feelings for the General.

vetoed the bill preventing the "docking" or mutilation of horses' tails in Kentucky. This bill was strongly supported by all the Humane societies of the State and passed the General Assembly with but slight opposition. Gov. Beckham, who allowed himself to be influenced in the matter by the few people in the state at whom the legislation was aimed, has not strengthened his hold on public opinion by his attitude on "horses' tails."

A successful practical test of wireless telephony was made on the Ohio river. This test was made from 2500 feet on the opposite bank on the immorality of the law or order.

The Stimulus of Pure Blood

That is what is required by every organ of the body, for the proper performance of its functions.

It prevents biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney complaint, rheumatism, catarrh, nervousness, weakness, faintness, pimples, blotches, and all cutaneous eruptions.

It perfects all the vital processes.

W. P. Keeton, Woodstock, Ala., took Hood's Sarsaparilla to make his blood pure. He writes that he had not felt well but tired for some time. Before he purchased the first bottle of this sarsaparilla he fell asleep and when he had taken the second was like another man — free from that tired feeling and able to do his work.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Promises to cure and keeps the promise. Accept no substitute, but

BETHLEHEM COLLEGE NOTES.

After an absence of several days Miss Edith Allen returned to school last Friday.

Miss Katharine Jones enjoyed a few day's visit home last week.

The prayer meeting was conducted by Miss Lucy White last Wednesday. The attendance was good and much interest taken.

Misses Mary and Lucy White visited their home in Cadiz the latter part of the week.

Misses Mary Wright and Mabel Hille were guests at a candy pulling given at the home of Mr. Geo. Long to the members of his Sunday school class on last Friday evening. The others present were the young ladies of South Kentucky college. The earlier part of the evening was spent in guessing contests. In the first, which consisted of questions on the last quarter's Sunday school lessons, Miss Hille won as a prize a box of lovely candies. In another contest over the measurements and weights of six potatoes, the prize, a box of bon bons, was awarded to miss Ernestine Waller as the most successful contestant.

The pulling of the candy was the best feature of the evening and was entered into with school girl enjoyment.

At half-past ten the guests departed, declaring Mr. Long to be not only a good teacher but a good host as well; and feeling much indebted to him and to Mrs. Long for the delightful evening. The girls say that examinations like this one are fine.

Miss Polly Graues and Miss Nannie Stone enjoyed two days in the country with Mrs. Fox Holliday last week.

Quite an entertaining evening was afforded to the school on last Saturday by Miss Newman's table.

Misses Della and Cecyle Gaines, Patty Bartley, Jane Soyars and Jeanie Graham were also present. A school play, the Elixir of Youth, and some amusing charades were given in the chapel. The guests were then invited to another room where oranges with whipped cream and cake were served.

The evening was quite a diversion from the week of school work and was one of the most enjoyable we have had for some time.

KALOZETIC SOCIETY NOTES.

The business meeting was held at the usual time in the society hall last week. Under new business it was proposed that the society should begin planning along way to raise money for completing the building of the hall. All suggestions were received and it was resolved that we should give the second of our annual entertainments in the hall in the month of June, and that the money so raised would be used for that purpose.

The Kalozetic Society consists of about number. This illustrates the fact that the society is toward our goal. The friends who we must have at all times power in this behalf.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How to Find Out.
Fill a small glass with your urine and let it stand two hours; if there is any sediment or sedimentation, it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequently desire to urinate at night; the back also aches; the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is the kidney tonic that every part of the kidney needs. It corrects inability to hold urine and stimulates the passing of bold effects following use of wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the night. The mild and ordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized; it yields the highest of tonical virtues in the cure of the kidney disease. If you need a medicine you should get the best. You will have a sample bottle, of the wonderful discovery, and a book that tells more about both swamp root and its uses. Address to Dr. Kilmer & Sons, New York, N.Y. The Heavy Male Tax.

One of the heaviest items of expense to which the poultry breeder, whether amateur or professional, subjects himself is superfluous male birds. For eight months in the year all male birds are simply a nuisance, and since we know about how many male breeders we shall want during the remaining four months why do we keep so many of these useless fellows as "boarders" who don't pay their bills?

We may ascribe it to ignorance on the part of the amateur, but really he is not more guilty than the old-time professional. The latter vows by all that is good that he "will never do it again." No, sir, I'll kill off one-half of my old cocks and one-half of all my cockerels by the first of July next year, for they will bring as much money then as they will at Thanksgiving or Christmas, and I'll save all that feed." But the first of July and the first of August come and go and these unprofitable boarders are still with him.

Why is it? Simply a lack of nerve on his part to do what both observation and experience tell him he should do. He is afraid to put his own good judgement into execution. Old Herod ordered the slaughter of hundreds of male children that he might be sure that a certain one should be in the number, but Mr. Poultrykeeper saves the life of hundreds of cockerels, forsaking, lest he might in his slaughter kill for a half-dollar one out that might some day be worth two dollars or five dollars. Far better to sacrifice a few good birds than to feed so many so long for absolutely nothing.

But there is very little danger of killing really superior birds by mistake if they have passed the age of two months, and by July first all prospective breeding birds of American or Asiatic varieties should be more than two months old. For it is the late hatched cockerels, reared in too crowded quarters, that are too small, too immature to ever reach that hearty and vigorous development so essential to the successful sire.

Not only is it a saving of feed that counts for much, especially in a year like this, when all kinds of feed are so high priced, but the increased room that the others have in which they may range and eat and shade themselves during the heated months of July, August and September, and still more, the room in which they may roost and lounge and feed and be comfortable after the cold weather of November has set in—is this the most important thing. The space ordinarily given to one hundred cockerels, if assigned to only 75, will usually develop a crop that, though smaller in numbers, will bring just as much money owing to increased quality.

And if this item reaches the eye of any farmer who breeds poultry merely as a side-line, but who likes to see the profits coming in, let me ask him if he has marketed every male bird on his place last July, thus saving seven months of expensive feeding, does he not see that his accounts would balance much better to-day, even though he must needs turn out next month and buy a few male birds for the coming breeding season.

One more point to the farmer and I am done: Too many male birds are kept, even during the breeding season. If you do not keep more than forty hens, and you allow them to run at large, and desire to set eggs from them all indiscriminately, two good, active male birds are enough. Under these circumstances of range and activity you will get a higher percentage of fertility than from fowls in confinement even with the ordinary ratio of one male to eight females. But why save eggs for hatching from so many? If you have forty hens,

Cancer Cured by Blood Balm.

ALL SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASE CURED.
Mrs. M. Adams, Fredonia, Ala., took Botanic Blood Balm, which effectively cured an eating cancer of the nose and face. Many doctors had given up her case as hopeless, supposing swelling, etc., have been cured by Blood Balm. Among others, Mrs. Guerne, Warrior, Alabama. Her nose and lip raw as beef, with offensive discharge from the eating sore. Doctors advised cutting, but it failed. Blood Balm healed the sores, and Mrs. Guerne is as well as ever. Botanic Blood Balm will cure eczema, bone poisons, ulcers, offensive pimples, blood poison, carbuncles, scrofula, risings and bumps on the skin and all blood trouble. Druggists, $1 per large jar. Sample of Botanic Blood Balm free and unpaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and special medical advice sent in sealed letter. It is certainly worth while investigating such remarkable remedy as Blood Balm cures the most awful worst and most deep seated blood disease, select fifteen of the very best specimens and give them the advantages of range and liberty and exercise accompanied by one fine, active male bird, and save their eggs for hatching. Keep the other twenty-five to produce eggs for eating, and to do the hatching and rearing, if you still refuse to use incubators and brooders, and you will be surprised to see how many chicks you will hatch. Your fifteen hens in the one hundred days following February 15th ought to give you from seven hundred to one thousand eggs. If your birds are pure bred, fine specimens and correctly mated we'd rather have one sitting from them than two sittings from birds kept in close confinement and without sufficient exercise even though the latter are really the finer specimens.—T. E. Orr in Commercial Poultry.

WONDERFUL HINDU FAIRIES.

HYPNOTISM THE ONLY EXPLANATION FOR SOME OF THEIR STARTLING ILLUSIONS.
Wonderful stories are told of the powers of the Hindu fairies. Careful attention to their rule has not discovered their secret with any certainty, but Capt. James Parker, the English traveler, who has just returned from a tour of India, gives it as his belief that hypnotism is the means by which they accomplish their most startling illusions. One incident which he describes seems to bear out his view.

The trick which is acknowledged to be the greatest of these Hindu mystic performances, says Capt. Parker, and the one that has been described by trustworthy persons too often to be doubted, is the one in which the fairies throw a ball of twine into the air above him, until it disappears from sight. The loose ends of the string he holds in his hand, and after the boy assistant has climbed up the string until he, too, is out of sight, the fairie himself follows with a knife between his teeth.

The spectators, surprised when both boy and man climb out of sight, are horrified when the boy's severed head, arms and legs, followed by the trunk, fall to the ground, and the man slides down close behind. Their astonishment is increased when the fairie gathers the severed members and restores the boy to life.

Well, I saw this performance once, and once I didn't see it, and the latter experience was no more wonderful than the other. I had a friend in London who was visiting me, and after I saw him perform it for a few minutes on the veranda of my bungalow, I saw, as I was returning, the same fairie and his assistant, whom I had seen perform the trick, standing about 40 feet in front of my friend, apparently preparing to begin a performance. As I was about as far behind the faires as my friend were in front of them, and had not been observed, I stood quietly where I was.

The man placed a drawn knife between his teeth, took the usual ball of twine in his right hand, made a motion as if throwing it into the air, and then stood perfectly quiet. My friends on the veranda were looking into the upper air with astonishment on their faces, which in a moment turned to a look of horror as their eyes came back to the ground. In another minute their countenances lighted up with pleasure, and they applauded roundly.

They could not say enough about the wonderful performance they had seen, and I they were astonished beyond measure when I told them I had seen as mortal fairie as they had, and had seen nothing of what had so wonderfully impressed them.

If that was not hypnotism, what was it?

HE WASN'T THERE YET.

Cash Boy Who Was Afraid of Doing a Little Too Much.
WE never say anything in factory, office or store, there are always some employees who, no doubt, if they reach the place of employment ahead of time, in the morning or at noon, make it a point never to begin work until the clock strikes, the whistle blows or the bell rings.

Shortly before one o'clock a few days ago a saleswoman in a large dry goods store in Milwaukee, says the Sentinel, having made a sale, had occasion to call for a cash boy. No one responded to her summons. Just then she espied a boy sitting a short distance from where she stood.

"Here, boy," said she to the little fellow, "take that to the counter and have it done up."

"I ain't here yet," replied the youngster, with the utmost coolness and unconcern.

As the woman could not induce the boy to stir, she was obliged to call for another.

Sterling by Electricity.

The earl of Crawford has devised a means of manipulating a vessel's anchor by means of electricity from any part of the ship. A practical demonstration of the invention was recently given upon the inventor's steam yacht Velthala in the Solent before several representatives of the British and Japanese navies, who were considerably impressed by the device. It is stated that the British admiralty proposes to give the invention a thorough trial upon one of the battleships. The most prominent feature of the device is that it is so simple to accident as the steam gear, and it is much easier to manipulate.—Scientific American.

Delayed.

Miss Katie McDaniel has not yet received her supplies from the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The delay is explained in the following:

"The delay in shipping the census supplies is due to the fact that the blank paper for printing was lost in shipping and has not reached the printer. As soon as it is received the supplies will be printed and shipped to you. We regret the delay very much, but is unavoidable."

Danger of Colds and La Grippe.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia, a terrible disease which is often fatal. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

Hotel Henderson Leased.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what we call La Grippe," says F. L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the cough like magic and I have never since been troubled with Grippe. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of Grippe. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by all druggist.

To The LADIES!

Spring Cleaning will soon occupy the housekeepers' attention to our artistic line of CABINET MANTELS, TILE HEARths AND FACING AND RADIANT GRATES. We have a $2,000 stock in this line alone. Nothing adds more to the beauty of a room or to its comfort either. A tile hearth is as easy to clean as a dinner plate, and a Radiant grate gives out just three times as much heat as the old kind. Don't wait till fall to make the change, everybody else does the same and you will fail to get your work done before cold weather.
